Re: Retaliatory Prosecution and Malicious Prosecution for exercising the right to a fair trial

Dear Judge Groger,

I am writing to formally address the events surrounding my arrest for aggravated assault and the subsequent convictions involving all parties, including myself, Stanley Duket Jr. (a convicted felon), and Christina Hills, my co-defendant in a related burglary case. These charges, and the manner in which the proceedings were handled, raise significant questions regarding the legitimacy of the legal process and the fairness of the prosecution.

On the day of the incident, I was shot by Stanley Duket Jr., a convicted felon who was illegally in possession of a firearm. This took place at my legal residence, where I had every right to be. Despite being the victim of a shooting by a felon, I was charged with aggravated assault, a charge that seems entirely unfounded given the circumstances. Mr. Duket, who should have been the primary focus of the prosecution due to his illegal possession and use of a firearm, was instead tried alongside me and found guilty. Christina Hills, who was also present, was similarly charged.

The core issue I wish to bring before the court is the fact that there appears to be no clear victim in this case, despite the undeniable fact that I was shot. The charging and conviction of all involved parties, without proper consideration of the facts, suggest that my arrest may have been an attempt to prevent me from exercising my right to go to trial for the seemingly unrelated burglary charge. It proves that I was pressured to accept a plea deal in that case, and the timing of the aggravated assault charge points to retaliation on the part of the prosecution and Pasco County Florida Sheriff Department. Most likely because during my States Attorney investigation I saw Christina Hills get raped by a Pasco County Sheriff officer and when I tried to intervene I was stopped by the words "I'm a cop." and was forced to walk away. That information would have definitely come out during the trial. This, in my opinion, is a clear example of both malicious prosecution, retaliatory prosecution and a cowardly way for a sorry excuse for law enforcement retaliation against innocent civilians in an attempt to cover up their own criminal activity.

Given the circumstances, I respectfully submit that this court will reconsider the outcome of these charges, as the facts do not support the notion that I was guilty of aggravated assault. Instead, the events show a troubling pattern of prosecutorial misconduct aimed at forcing me to forgo my right to a fair trial in the burglary case and also everyone's right to fair and just prosecution and protection under law enforcement.

Additionally, I wish to highlight the fact that Your Honor presided over all of the related cases, both mine and those of Mr. Duket and Ms. Hills. The outcome in all cases has been a conviction, despite my being the victim of a violent act by a felon. I ask that the court consider how such a scenario can exist without a clear explanation for why the victim of the shooting was also charged and convicted.

I request that this letter be entered into the record and considered as part of my ongoing efforts to seek justice and accountability for the events that transpired. I also urge the court to conduct a thorough review and request a review of all cases and parties involved of the prosecutorial actions in this case and every other case, as they have led to an outcome that is not only unjust but also indicative of systemic issues in how the law has been applied and enforced.

I verify, or claim to charges of perjury, that all information in this document are true and just!!!

Thank you for your time and attention to this matter.

Sincerely,
Matthew Aaron Davis
