

To the Office of the Inspector General,
United States Marine Corps,

I am writing to formally request an urgent investigation into what I believe to be the unlawful deployment of a psychological operations training program—allegedly referred to as "V2K"—within my community of Zephyrhills, Florida. I have reason to believe this program is being deployed over 5G technology, potentially a boot camp-style psychological training program meant for the Marine Corps. Recruits on Parris Island or a altered experimentation initiative.

Members of my community, including myself and my family, have experienced unexplained symptoms of psychological manipulation, extreme behavioral shifts, and symptoms consistent with induced mental illness and Stockholm syndrome. Most disturbingly, my first-born son was affected at the early age of six. He is the nephew of Mr. Dean Marshall Hills Jr., a 35-year veteran of both the U.S. Army and Marine Corps.

Though I suspect local involvement, possibly from the State Attorney's Office, I do not have the resources or authority to conduct a proper investigation. Given the gravity of these claims and their potential national security implications, I respectfully urge the Marine Corps Inspector General to investigate whether military-grade psychological training programs or V2K technologies are being misused domestically against civilians in Pasco County Florida possibly on individuals under a Florida State Attorney investigation.

Please help protect the rights, mental health, and safety of American families, and serve justice here on U.S. soil.

Respectfully,

Matthew Aaron Davis
