

TREASON BY THE PEOPLE OF THE SOUTH - GANGSTALKING OF TARGETED INDIVIDUAL

BY: Matthew A. Davis.
Pasco County, Florida.

The process consist of multiple simultaneous attacks. I will refer to them as psychological attack and a environmental attack. The objective is to use psychological warfare tactics from the (1)Cold War and environmental attacks such as gangstalking harrassment tactics ultimately to produce (1>false convictions and/or slow torucher campaign resulting in suicide of the victim (incogna) to keep law enforcement a profitable business. The "PSYOPS" are military units of every branch that are experts at this psychological warfare. Use of this process in the domestic United States is known as (1)treason to the Federal Government and the victims of it are know as Targeted Individuals.

Along with these tactics I am about to explain, a few tools are needed to complete this process. First a computer with the capability of accessing restricted technology. Restricted technology is only open to military and law enforcement. This restriction is in place to keep a edge on the rest of the world for our defense as a nation and is roughly 50+ years ahead of the private sector. This technology is supposed to be used by qualified personnel for official use only and monitored by the military. Unfortunately

(5) Pasco County Florida was granted funding from the United States Government to purchase a top of the line supercomputer that cost roughly $100,000. This computer would be the foundation of the (6)Pasco County Sheriff Intelligent Lead Policing Department. This department uses advanced technology to (6)"stop crime before it happens." Also it has been deemed terroristic and a "disgrace to all policing agencies everywhere" by Tampa Bay Times. The system uses logarithmic algorithms to predict future events from historic data like criminal history and (6) "Unspecified data". It is my belief that this " Unspecified data" is current location, conversations and thoughts of every citizen of Pasco County Florida. Around 612,000 permanent residents.

Anyone who has taken a calculus class knows to do a logarithmic algorithm you need historical data and very current data. Without both there is no way to accurately predict any future event.

For example to predict a future event of crime you would need historical data like criminal records, reports of violence and associates like the "ILP manual" states and what I believe is expressed as "Unspecified data" would be current locations of people the type of interactions like what they are talking about and privacy violations to the max. Violating countless laws, statutes and constitutional amendments.

First (3)wireless synthetic telepathy to force communication with the victim and also to gain information about the victims life in its entirety commonly used in (4)Police/States Attorney investigations. Also more commonly used in military operations where silence can not be broken but communication between soldiers is necessary.

Just to explain how perfect synthetic telepathy sounds your ear organs accepts sound waves that your mind will decode into a audible sound. (3)Synthetic Telepathy bypasses that ear organ and is sent by a (3)millimeter microwave frequency that your mind decodes bypassing the ear filter and going directly to the mind. The sound is better than perfect. Every Marine knows this as it is a part of basic training.

Second non-lethal (3)Direct Energy Weapons (DEW) known as touch less torture that induce extreme physical pain anywhere on or in a persons body also add compliance with the victim, induce a state of fear and inferiority to add reassurance that the victim is under attack.

PSYCHOLOGICAL ATTACK PROCESS

With the use of wireless synthetic telepathy the victim will start hearing all their own thoughts repeated back to them in a audible voice that changes at unspecified intervals within their mind that no one else can hear. 10 to 15 very different very distinct voices will be used in the beginning. This will last for the entirety of the process.

After about two weeks of only repeating the victims thoughts back to them a personality will be added to engage the victim in dialogue. The personality of this dialogue entity will be the programming foundation for the induced schizophrenia in the victim that will be a side effect of repeating the victims thoughts back to them.

For example if the dialogue is terroristic personality that is constantly threatening or extremely abusive the victims mind will adopt the same personality.

In the same respect I believe that if the personality dialogue entity is very uplifting or full of positive reinforcement that the mind will adopt the same attitude possibly creating a more favorable outcome, but unfortunately in my experience terror is all i received.

Doing this to a person will ultimately induce schizophrenia into the victim where their mind will forget their own inner voice and begin to involuntarily answer questions and unfinished statements with little to no voluntary thought from the victim. (1)This is extremely effective "in illiciting all information" from the victim. Also it states in the CIA report entitled "Brainwashing" released in 1999. The after effects of the POWs who were torched in this manner suffered unimaginable amounts of emotional and mental pain. Some of the techniques on altering a person completely turning them into weapons of mass destruction.

This constant terroristic dialogue of threats of the victims loved ones life's and threats of the victims life. Mostly attacking verbally everything and anything that the victim loves. The goal here is to get the victim to stop loving in order to protect itself from pain. This will come into play when pushing the victim to suicide.

Although it is not necessary but will decrease completion time drastically the use of Direct Energy Weapons to show superiority and extreme pain will then induce the victim with PTSD after a prolonged period of time. A feeling of helplessness and compliance can be achieved in this manner quickly as physical torture usually does.

A process of programming your mind through the repetition of words used in a specific order will start and continue through out the process. It is not specifically what the phrases are but more importantly what word comes before and after each word. For example the phrase "Everything happens for a reason" repeated over and over is not only manipulative to make a person feel ok about something but also teaching the mind to use the word "Happens" after the use of the word "Everything" even in conversations that are unrelated to this phrase.

The PTSD combine with programmed Schizophrenia will keep the victim on edge feeling like they or their loved ones are in constant harms way or force them to overly protect a loved one that's life is being threatened and in harms way or run away.

This will cause the loved ones to be concerned with the victims actions and appearance because by this time you will be showing physical signs of being tormented that can easily be blamed on drug addiction or mental health issues and when the victim opens up to a loved one the loved one will instinctively want to get them help and pick the more rational answer of mental health issues or drug addiction.

By now it's been about a year and the victim is completely induced with schizophrenia and PTSD. Also anyone close to the victim will have pushed them away. They will not be able to keep a job which will ultimately push them to pursue a criminalized lifestyle to survive and they can be arrested. Or use synthetic telepathy to make the victim believe there is an immediate danger situation where they need to respond by doing something illegal. For example hearing the sounds of someone screaming for help in a house causing the victim to go into the home to save someone from harm where there is none.

After the victim is incarcerated the PTSD will get worse from them not knowing if their loved ones are ok or not. There is no need for a terrorist personality entity now the schizophrenia entity in their mind will be more than enough. After some time in incarceration they will experience a deep depressed state of mind. A feeling of helplessness and failure to protect their loved ones or loneliness.

During this state of deep depression randomly try to uplift the victim with suggestions for them to do good things for themselves like to work out or tell them your there for them. Random acts of kindness during this prolonged state of terrorism will then induce them with Stockholm Syndrome. Especially while incarcerated where no one is on your side.

Eventually over time the depression will pass and the PTSD. You will be left with a person who relies on the person or entity using the synthetic telepathy and by reducing the amount of voices repeating the victims thoughts back to them will lessen the effects of schizophrenia and hopefully remove it completely.

Unfortunately in my case the schizophrenia was unable to be removed and I will have a terrorist entity harassing me for the rest of my life. It gets easier to handle over time. Manageable at best.

Now with a victim induced with Stockholm syndrome the victim will more or less do whatever you ask of them. Also unethical human experimentation can take place at this time, more torucher or use of a compliant slave as you wish.

As a side note most of the tactics and techniques used in psychology warfare are only effective if the victim doesn't know what is happening to them. Once the victim figures it out or understands what is happening the dialogue has little to no effect. That is the reason why I'm writing this down to notify innocent civilians who may become "Targeted Individuals".

ENVIRONMENTAL ATTACK PROCESS

(This should and will be done at the same time the psychological attack is done.)

The process starts by isolating the victim. Try to remove any outside influence of normality in the victims life to open them up to accepting new cultures or environments. Remove any dependents and all possession try to remove everything from the victims life that will hold on to memories.

Place the victim in a semi hostile isolated environment and place people around them who understand the objective for lack of a better word "gangstalkers". Most of these people will have to be compensated in some form or fashion. They will act out various circumstances to research the victims reactions to get a better understanding of the victim. These people should also have some knowledge of the victims thoughts as to mention "trigger" words or phrases.

The victim must believe, or be, video monitored at times and believe that all privacy is gone but no one should verify this and actually contest the idea as if it is crazy or they have mental health issues.

The objective here is to keep the victim in a feeling of a hostile environment or war zone, but from the outside looking in make it appear to be a calm neutral environment. You want the victim to lash out or attack someone so they can be arrested and kept incarcerated or to act in such a outlandish way that they can be admitted to a psych ward against their will. If admitted to a ward the psychological torture will increase due to the fact that the victim has lost all credibility.

Always keep one person close to the victim whether a close friend that is being black mailed to cooperate or a new "girlfriend" or "boyfriend" that is being compensated to lead the victim into situations where they can be isolated and toruchered. Or to waste the victims time and resources keeping them from pursuing anything beneficial to their lives.

Also required is the basic needs of a person. They will provide a source of income that is never enough to move on or save any money. Make sure they get a good source of income at first then starve them for work but keep the promise of good paychecks to come. When the victim does get paid make sure that bills are due or that something needs to be fixed or has broken down for example a vehicle becomes sabotage from "wear and tear" or rent is due. As to keep them on the verge of broke.

If the victim travels outside the isolated area be sure to slander their name to the surrounding areas. Keeping them from finding more income or people that will help them out of the situation you have put me in. Go as far as possible to keep the victim (lab rat) engage in the torucher campaign.

Eventually between the psychological and environmental attacks placed on this targeted individual, victim, lab rat they will either become incarcerated, admitted to a mental institution or run away and leave the state. Except for me who will endure the torucher campaign, research, analyze and take notes to understand the process and educate others so they have a fighting chance against gangstalking.

7. Generally three to five operators (ROD) of V2k & RNM devices in group in turn concentrate one victim via satellite positioning technology to realize remote harassment, the technology is mainly based on these US technology patents and China patents which describe the technology of V2K & RNM are extracting the brain's characteristic wave frequency first (like fingerprints, each person's brain characteristic wave frequency is different), then codes the brain characteristic wave frequency by computer software technology and remotely locks the frequency and monitors the victim's brain wave frequency using computer software technology and satellite positioning technology.

10. In such way, three to five operators (ROD) using devices of V2K & RNM in groups perform active psychological attacks on victim's brain with some negative emotions, but the effect of this kind of psychological reactions can be two-ways or two directions between victim and operators (RODs) using devices of V2K & RNM.

28. Till now, there is not any method to identify both the victims and those remote operators (RODs) using devices of V2K & RNM around world. These abuse has been developed global and transnational, so the invention is the first set of method in the world which can identify both victims and remote operators (RODs) using devices of V2K & RNM accurately in high degree by means of computer technology.

This is all from my point of view as a victim of gangstalking and Incogna starting when I became under investigation by the States Attorney March 2021 and is ongoing. Today is February 3, 2024.
